

INTERNATIONAL LICENSE AGREEMENT

If you live inside Germany, this agreement does not apply to you. Instead please either set the correct location in your Windows Control Panel (Regional Settings) or contact EmTec Support at <http://www.emtec.com> for a copy of the German license agreement.

This is a legal agreement between you, the end user, and EmTec, Innovative Software, Markus Schmidt ("EmTec"). The EmTec ZOC software program (the "Software") is licensed by EmTec for use only on the terms and conditions set forth in this document. Please read this license agreement carefully. If you download the Software you are indicating to EmTec that you accept and agree to be bound by the terms set forth in this document. If you do not agree to the terms and conditions set forth in this document, you agree that you will not download the Software and we thank you for your interest.

1. Grant of License. The Software is not public domain software nor is it free software. The use of the Software, except for an initial 30-day trial period, requires registration. Non-licensed users are granted a limited license to use the Software on a 30-day trial basis for the purpose of determining whether the Software is appropriate for their needs. After this period, you must either purchase the Software or remove it from your computer system. The use of unlicensed copies of the Software outside of the initial 30-day trial period by any person, firm, business, corporation, government agency or other entity is strictly prohibited, unless a license for software has meanwhile been ordered and will be paid for within the agreed time.

A single computer license grants a single user the right to use the Software on a single computer at any given time. This means: Typically the license is to be used by a single user using the Software on a computer that is operated only by this user. However, a user may also install the same license on different computers, if the license is used by only this user and only on one computer at any given time. An alternate scenario is, that multiple users may share a single license on a single computer if they use the license at different times. These scenarios (usage on multiple computers vs. multiple users) are mutually exclusive.

2. Grant of Site License. A site license permits a company or organization (defined as a single legal or taxable entity) with multiple users to use several copies of the Software on stand-alone computers and/or to use a single copy over a network or in a terminal/server environment. This kind of license is based on a user count, which is defined to be the number of licenses required, if all users were running the Software on stand-alone computers as defined under 1). If you wish to arrange for a site license, please contact EmTec for more details.

3. Copyright. The Software is owned by EmTec and is protected by copyright laws. All rights are reserved. You may either (a) make two copies of the Software solely for backup or archival purposes provided that you reproduce all copyright and other proprietary notices that are on the original copy of the Software provided to you, or (b) transfer the Software to a single hard disk provided you keep the original solely for backup or archival purposes. You may not copy the written materials accompanying the Software.

4. Lifetime of license. For the time between ordering and eventual payment, EmTec will grant a temporary license for 90-days to cover the time required for purchasing, order processing and payment. This license will automatically become permanently effective when (and only if) EmTec has received the full payment (either directly or through resellers). From this point on the license will be ongoing for the Software version purchased and for updates with the same major version number (with exception of termination for breach of this agreement, see 6.)

5. Other Restrictions. You may not rent or lease the Software. You may not reverse engineer, decompile, disassemble, or create derivative works from the Software. Use of the Software for any military- or arms production related purpose, whether direct or indirect, is strictly prohibited and will constitute a breach of the license granted under this Agreement.

6. Termination. A breach of any term or condition in this Agreement by a licensed user will entitle EmTec to terminate the license granted hereby. Upon notice of termination from EmTec, you agree that you will immediately cease the use of the Software, remove it from your computer system and destroy any Software disks or manuals acquired from EmTec.

7. General. This Agreement will be governed by the laws of Germany. Any dispute in relation to this Agreement will be determined by the court of Nuernberg, Germany and every licensed user expressly attorns to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of Germany. Should you have any questions concerning this Agreement or if you desire to contact EmTec Software for any reason, please write: EmTec Software, Kirchenweg 14, 90419 Nuernberg, Germany (Telefax: 0911-740 6857).
